

STUDENTS' COUNCIL'S COLLOQUIUM

Event Report – #CQDAY

Date : 6th February,2019

The Students' Council's Colloquium had organized a day called #CQDay to glorify 12 years of Colloquium!

We had organised 2 walk in events called Saanp Seedhi and Andhadhun. Saanp Seedhi was the corporate snakes and ladders wherein the player started the journey from a Trainee in a corporate office and by answering questions went on till becoming the CEO of the company. The player who completed the game in the minimum number of rolls won Rs.2000. Andhadhun on the other hand was a basic chain supply wherein participants came in a pair. One was blindfolded and the other gave him instructions to pick up the placards in the order of a supply chain. The team who picked the cards in the least amount of time won Rs. 3000

There was one more game under #CQDay called The Football Stock Exchange. There were two games of prerecorded football match was shown on the screen. The teams had to bid on players. According to the player's performance, the stock of the respective player went up or down. The team with the maximum amount of cash in hand at the end of two games were lucky to win Rs. 5000

We planned to have a joyful day for all the students for celebrating 12 years of Colloquium.
