

SVKM'S NMIMS

Mukesh Patel School of Technology Management & Engineering, MUMBAI

Organised by
MPSTME Club Mathematica
Pi Day -International Day of Mathematics

ONLINE EVENT REPORT

Name of Event: Pi Day & International Day of Mathematics

Date: 14 March 2021 (11:00 AM-12:15 PM)

Platform: Microsoft Teams

Organisers :

- 1) Dr. Minirani S.
Associate Professor, Department of BSH
MPSTME, Mumbai Campus
- 2) Dr. Mahesh Naik
Assistant Professor, Department of BSH
MPSTME, Mumbai Campus

&

Student coordinators of MPSTME Club Mathematica

International Day of Mathematics is annually celebrated on March 14. The day was recognised by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) during its general conference in 2019. Before this, the day was marked as Pi Day. The day was first celebrated in 1988 after Physicist Larry Shaw. The day is written in the MM/DD format so that it represents the value of Pi that is 3/14. Moreover, mathematician and physicist, Albert Einstein was also born on this date. The theme for this year is "Mathematics for a better world".

Speaker: Dr. Sandhya K Nair, Scientist SE, VSSC (ISRO), Trivandrum

Topic: Mathematics for a better world

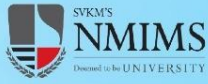

Objective of Event:

- To inspire the students about the actual use of Mathematics to build a better world.
- To introduce them various opportunities available at ISRO

Target Audience:

Faculty members and students of MPSTME students.

No of registered participants: 55

MUKESH PATEL SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT
& ENGINEERING

Mathematics for a Better World

A Webinar by

DR. SANDHYA K NAIR

Scientist/Engineer-SE
at the Space Physics Laboratory, VSSC (ISRO)

DATE: π DAY- 14th March, 2021
TIME: 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Contact:

Aadit Shah: +91 9699926603

Devanshu Ramaiya: +91 9769511290

 : club_mathematica